- The local session opened with the rand trading in the low 14.80s. Trading activity on the day was relatively limited, with the local unit managing to trade to a best level of 14.7200, closing the session trading at 14.7600. In the overnight session, the rand traded marginally weaker to currently trade at 14.8325. The EURZAR is trading at 16.3675 and the GBPZAR is trading at 19.3090.
- The international markets again saw the EURUSD confined to limited trading ranges, holding between 1.1041 and 1.1064; this morning, it is currently trading at 1.1035. The GBPUSD traded to a low of 1.2942 yesterday, and this morning, is currently trading at 1.3025, little changed from the close last night. Gold is currently trading at 1,558.25, USD16 off from the opening levels yesterday.
- Data releases scheduled for today: locally, we have the PMI; from Europe, we have services PMI releases, as well as the composite PMI and retail sales for the zone, and ECB speakers. From the US, we have mortgage applications, ADP employment, trade, the services PMI, the composite PMI, and non-manufacturing, and the Fed's Brainard is scheduled to speak.
- The markets continue to find comfort in the measures being implemented in China to curtail the spread of the coronavirus and in the PBoC's liquidity measures. On the local front, Eskom continues to implement load shedding, which would undoubtedly weigh on any hopes of a local recovery.
- Possible trading range for the rand today: 14.6500 to 14.9500
