Business Banking FX | +27 11 535 4003 | Corporate FX | +2711 535 4002 | Institutional FX | +2711 535 4005

- The local trading session opened with the rand trading in the low 17.30s. In what proved to be a moderately more subdued trading session, the rand was ultimately confined to a trading range between 17.1725 and 17.3675. With local flows remaining relatively limited and liquidity tested, it ended the day trading at 17.3075. Activity in the overnight sessions was also muted; the rand is currently trading at 17.3250, the EURZAR is trading at 20.5825 and the GBPZAR at 22.7445.
- The international markets saw the major currency pairs post gains, with the EURUSD trading from a low of 1.1801 to reach a high marginally above the 1.1900 level. This morning, it currently trades at 1.1882. The GBPUSD is trading at 1.3130, close to its closing levels last night. Gold has posted another gain in price of c.USD20 since the same time yesterday; it currently trades at 2,047.50.
- Data releases scheduled for today: no local releases; from Europe, we have German factory orders; and from the US, we have weekly jobless data.
- Although the rand has traded sharply weaker over the past 10 days or so, reaching highs above 17.5000 earlier in the week, it has recovered moderately from these extremes. Although it does remain vulnerable, only a break sub-17.0000 is likely to signal any meaningful recovery. The focus now is on the US data to be released tomorrow.
- Possible trading range for the rand today: 17.1000 to 17.6000
