- On Thursday, the local session opened with the rand trading around the 15.0400 level. The local unit was firmly on the back foot as demand for USD in a risk-off environment saw the rand trade to a high of 15.2150, ending the local session trading at 15.1500. In the New York session, the rand extended its losses to reach a high of 15.3000 briefly; this morning, it has recovered marginally to currently trade at 15.2060. The EURZAR is currently trading at 17.7710 and the GBPZAR is currently trading at 20.7320.
- The international markets saw the major currencies remain on the back foot relative to the USD, although the extent of the losses was limited and activity muted. This morning, the EURUSD is currently trading at 1.1686. The GBPUSD is currently trading at 1.3634, having traded above the 1.3700 level yesterday. Gold yesterday held steady around the 1,780.00 level; this morning, it is marginally firmer, currently at 1,786.15.
- Data releases scheduled for today: no local releases; from Germany, we have the PPI; and from the UK, we have retail sales, public finances and net borrowing. There are no scheduled releases from the US, but the Fed's Kaplan is scheduled to speak.
- The rand, along with its emerging-market peers, traded weaker as the FOMC minutes provided the catalyst for a resurgent USD. The local unit breached above its initial short-term technical resistance level around the 15.1000 level. On the top side, the next meaningful technical resistance level is around the 15.5000 level.
- Possible trading range for the rand today: 15.0500 to 15.5500

- Benchmark crude oil prices are better bid with Brent crude oil marking at $66.77 per barrel. In ZAR terms, Brent crude remains above R1,000 per barrel. Gold has moved back above $1,785 per ounce while PGM's are also better bid but still have a long way to go to recover what they have lost recently.

South Africa

- Top40 -2.85%; global risk-off as FOMC minutes show the taper debate is back on the table; US options expiry. SAPY +0.84% a notable O/P on the day with NRP +3.40% doing the heaving lifting after releasing its 1H FY21 nrs. Banks -1.68%; market ignored a decent set of nrs from SBK -1.25%, headline earnings up 52%...upper end of guidance. Flows: saw decent two-way NRP after nrs; remain two-way INL and INP for locals; better sellers MCG for foreigners. Worth noting: Vodacom (OW, TP: 158) despite slower data traffic growth in SA (high COVID-19 quarter base), beats in fixed/enterprise and International Mobile (IM) supported in-line overall Group growth trends for service revenue (+7.8% y/y, constant FX). NEPI Rockcastle: 1H nrs...Distributable earnings below our estimates but compensated by a higher payout ratio. Key positive is valuations have held steady, strong balance sheet and operational environment is rebounding. DEPS of 17.64c is slightly lower than our forecast of 18.4c and 10.3% lower than in 1H20. Turnover remains decent at R37.8bn; 1.6m NRP at 102.50, 5m OMU at 14.10, 574k INP at 59, 1m MEI at 60.01.

UK/Europe

- European stocks slumped after the Federal Reserve signalled a tapering of stimulus starting this year and worries about China's crackdown sparked a sell-off in luxury shares. The Stoxx Europe 600 index dropped 1.5% at the close, the most in a month. Miners slid 4.2% for the worst sector performance. Luxury shares LVMH, Richemont and Kering SA tumbled after Chinese state media said President Xi Jinping offered an outline for "common prosperity" that puts some of the country's wealthiest citizens on notice. That hurt France's CAC 40 Index, which fell 2.4%. In Europe, buy-the-dip sentiment has reigned supreme after bouts of stock volatility so far this year. The Stoxx 600 has gone without a 5% drop for 138 days, the longest streak since 2017.

USA

- Stock trading was volatile ahead of Friday's options expiration. Treasuries rose alongside the USD. The S&P 500 edged higher, while the CBOE VIX was on track for its biggest weekly surge since January. An earlier equity slide was driven by anxiety over the withdrawal of Federal Reserve stimulus, the virus spread and global supply chains. Metals prices slumped as part of a sell-off that extended to agriculture, oil and natural gas. Equities have struggled to sustain momentum after hitting another all-time high earlier in the week. Investors are bracing for the withdrawal of unprecedented liquidity as the developed world looks to mass vaccinations to keep the recovery on track. However, the persistent spread of the coronavirus and slowing China growth raise questions about whether the global economy can absorb the winding down of stimulus. This is pushing traders to buy protection against stock swings

Asia

- Asian stocks fell Friday as the fast-spreading delta virus strain stoked concerns about economic growth and China's regulatory curbs sapped sentiment. The USD was firm, and commodities mostly held a decline. Shares retreated in Japan, Hong Kong and China, where Beijing is continuing its crackdown on private industry. US equity futures fluctuated after modest S&P 500 and Nasdaq 100 gains during a choppy overnight session. Treasuries held a climb, and the USD was around a nine-month high. Commodities stabilised, but their recent slump is flashing a warning about the impact of the pandemic's resurgence on the global recovery. Commodity-linked currencies including the New Zealand, Canadian and Australian dollars slipped, with an extension to Sydney's lockdown also weighing on the Aussie.
