SNIPPETS

Currencies	The rand continues to trade around the 15,0000 pivot, although any signs of strength from the local unit are being met with demand for USD
Commodities	Oil price remains above USD80 per barrel
Equities	The Top40 is up c.8,9% from its September lows; it is in overbought territory, so we would say it is quite vulnerable to a pullback

- The new week opened with the rand trading marginally below the 15,0000 level. The local unit was confined to a limited trading range as market participants remained cautious. The rand reached a best level of 14,8975 on the day before ending the session around the opening levels at 14,9800. In the overnight sessions. the rand weakened marginally to currently trade at 15,0700. The EURZAR is trading at 17,4160 and the GBPZAR is currently at 20,4925.
- On the international front, the major currency pairs had a similarly muted trading session. The EURUSD is currently trading at 1,1558, which is 10 points off from the same time yesterday. The GBPUSD opened the session yesterday at 1,3635 and has traded marginally weaker since then, currently trading at 1,3595. Gold is currently trading at 1 757,95, effectively unchanged since yesterday.
- Data releases scheduled for today: locally, we have mining and manufacturing production releases; from Europe, we have German ZEW data; and from the UK, we have unemployment data. There are no US data releases, but various Fed members are scheduled to speak.
- The rand continues to trade on the back foot, vulnerable to both international and local factors. The recent resumption of load shedding by Eskom comes just as the restriction levels have been eased and, as always, will likely weigh on the prospects of a sustained economic recovery.
- Possible trading range for the rand today: 14,8000 to 15,3000

South Africa

- Top40 +1,4%; diversified miners led global markets higher as WTI hits USD81 (last seen in 2014) and nickel +5%, copper +2%. Basic materials +2,87%; KIO +5,99% with iron ore up 4%...NPH -1,45% U/P understandably given Friday's move; SAP +5,2%. Money chasing SA Inc slowed somewhat with banks flat, retailers +0,31% and SAPY +0,32%; rand -0,23% sitting at 14,95. Apart from that, a fairly quiet session on the corporate news front, with the only data point being the SACCI Business Confidence Index.

UK/Europe

- European markets were mixed despite rising concerns on inflation globally. The European Stoxx 50 was down 0,02%. The UK's FTSE 100 gained 0,72%, Germany's DAX retreated 0,055% and France's CAC 40 climbed 0,16%.

USA

- US markets and futures saw declines as inflation concerns linger on the back of rising energy costs, with oil trading around record highs along with aluminium. Having said that, we think focus will slowly shift to earnings season, which kicks off today, but the first of the major financial firms being JP Morgan Chase & Co. gets things going in earnest tomorrow.

Asia

- The MSCI Inc's Asia-Pacific index snapped a three-day rally, with the technology sector leading losses. Concerns around Chinese authorities expanding their crackdown on private industry persist, with state-owned banks said to be next in line as President Xi Jinping examines whether 25 financial institutions including regulators, lenders and investment funds have grown too close with private firms. The KOSPI Index leads the move lower in the region dropping 1,44% while the Hang Seng is down 1% and the Nikkei slips 0,91%, both mildly better off.
